

Acknowledgments.

The Organ is going ahead in the way of subscriptions as fast as its most zealous friends could desire. There is a determination on the part of the temperance public to give the Organ a hearty support. During the past week we have received a large number of letters, requesting us to send specimen copies of the Organ. Everything looks bright for the future. And we humbly hope that the Organ will wield an influence that will adopt the Maine Law in all the States of the West and South.

A gentleman, who had by a fall broken one of his ribs, was mentioning the circumstances and describing the pain he felt. He was asked if the injury he sustained was near the vertebrae.

"No sir," replied he, "it was within a few yards of the Court House."

A celebrated remedy is thus puffed. "A customer called to-day to say that his wife accidentally dropped a little of our celebrated hair oil on the entry floor last night, and this morning discovered a splendid hair mat in the entry."

BRO. CLARK:—I drop you a line this morning, wishing to inform you of the revivals of the Sons of Temperance in this and the adjoining county. In company with Bros. M. B. B. Mason and A. W. Garoatte we visited Cleves, on Saturday the 2nd inst., for the purpose of organizing a Division of the Sons of Temperance; on our arrival we found the friends of the cause in fine spirits, and with a firm fixed hope to shut up two filthy dens of vice which are now located in their midst. At half past seven o'clock we proceeded to the Hall, assisted by the brethren from Elizabethtown. We initiated ten charter members; after the initiation they went into an election of officers for the present term, after which we installed their officers and left them to work, under the most flattering prospects. By special invitation I spoke to the Sabbath School children on Sunday morning at ten o'clock. A temperance meeting was published to be held in the Presbyterian church, at three o'clock in the afternoon. The meeting was well attended notwithstanding the stormy day. A meeting was also given out to be held in the evening in the Methodist church at 7 o'clock. The church was crowded to its utmost with attentive listeners. At the close of the meeting the pledge was presented for signatures, a goodly number were added to the list of members. A collection was also taken up for the purpose of purchasing some thousands of Cary's Tracts on the Maine Liquor Law. The Temperance men are determined that temperance tracts or the Temperance Organ shall be put in the hands of every man in their township. They are raising another club for the Organ which you will be informed of in a few days; this speaks well for the cause in Cleves. I left them in fine spirits on Monday morning when I started for the city. Just before starting four propositions were handed to me to join Cleves Division No. 36. I handed them to the W. P.; he informed me that they expected some ten or twelve propositions on the next meeting. One thing I cannot omit mentioning which took place in Cleves, only a few days ago, an old citizen of that place, and one who by his intemperate habits, became a township charge. In the winter of '52, he was found lying out on a cold frosty night; when found he was almost lifeless, but from kind treatment he recovered; but from the effect he lost the use of his limbs; a home was provided for him at the expense of the township, the rum-seller knowing all this, on one day last week, the noble and generous hearted man who kept him for the last year, gave him thirty cents to pay for his washing, but instead of paying for his washing, where did he go to one of the filthy whiskey dens in the village and paid the thirty cents for six glasses of poison. The rum-seller when asked by the gentlemen with whom this pauper stops, why he sold him whisky to get drunk, his reply was that he would sell to any person that would pay him. Moral Suasion Temperance men, what do you think of such a rum-seller. I say for the temper law.

For the Organ.Protracted Mass Meeting at Goshen.

BRO. CLARK:—By special invitation from the brethren of Goshen Division, No. 46, I visited their town on the 23d inst. In May, 1846, I had the pleasure of addressing the citizens of Goshen on the subject of Temperance. They then had a flourishing Division of the Sons of Temperance, numbering some ninety or one hundred members; but from some cause or other, their Division had become reduced to a few members. Yet, I found a little Spartan band, still determined to fight on and never surrender. They told me that it was with much difficulty they kept up their Division for the last two years; and for the last year they had but one initiation. Yet they have a fond hope of reviving the Order. This appeared to me like a Utopian dream—never to be realized. Notice was given to hold a temperance meeting. On the night I arrived, the friends of Temperance sought the use of the Methodist Church, and obtained it to hold the meetings in. The meetings commenced on the 23d and closed on the 28th. During the meetings, the Washington pledge was introduced, and at the close of the meeting, the Secretary reported 93 new members to the Society. All the meetings were well attended, by the most attentive listeners, and the best of order prevailed during the meetings. The deportment and conduct of the citizens to me during my stay with them, has endeared them to me, and I shall ever cherish a fond hope for their welfare and prosperity. At the commencement of the meetings the prospect looked gloomy, as those who had heretofore been active in the glorious cause had become as cold as an iceberg; but after one or two meetings become warmed in the advancement of the cause, inasmuch that men who thought at the commencement of the meetings that the Maine Liquor Law was one of the most unjust laws ever enacted—but before the meetings came to a close, felt convinced that the law was what we needed, and would vote for it. At the last meeting I took a vote, "All in favor of the Maine Law, rise to your feet," and every individual in the meeting arose, excepting two. This speaks well for the citizens of Goshen. Their watchword next October is to elect Maine Law men to the Legislature. On Saturday the Sons met at 4 o'clock, so as not to interfere with the night meeting. I spoke for them, and after the transaction of some business, the Division adjourned, to attend the meeting in the Church. The Division met on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and reinstated ten of her members, who stood aloof from the Order for some time, and also initiated two new members, one of them, the Rev. M. G. Purkhison, the Methodist in charge. This inspired new hopes in the brethren that something can be done. They are determined to push the war to the gates of the enemy. They have nothing to fear with such men as Machnaw, Haywood, Purkhison, Ballard, Dr. J. Lyman, and R. Bett to head the war. They are determined to speed the Organ of the Temperance Reform and temperance tracts like the leaves of autumn throughout their township.

For the Organ.Meeting at the Freeman St. Church.

BRO. CLARK:—On Monday evening, in company with the Hon. D. Fisher, we attended a meeting at the Freeman Street Church. The Sixteenth Ward Temperance and Anti-Gambling Society is only some five or six weeks old, and now numbers over one hundred. Brother Fisher addressed the meeting in his usual happy style. He portrayed the evils of intemperance in convincing and feasible argument; and particularly to young men, as on them depends the future hopes and destinies of this nation. His speech was well received. Edwards was then called for, but begged to be excused, from the labors he had performed the previous day by making three speeches in Cleves. Mr. French was then called for, who took the stand, and acquitted himself with honor. He is determined to use his efforts for the advancement of the Maine Law, from this until next October. I asked if all who took the Organ liked it. The response was, that "one number was worth the whole subscription." We are determined to get more subscribers to the Organ in this ward.

It appears that the farmers in Pennsylvania are opposed to the erection of the new county of Madison, proposed at the late general assembly, because they had far enough to go to the Philadelphia market without going through another county!

A Western farmer being obliged to sell a yoke of oxen to pay his hired man, told him he could not keep him any longer.

"Why," said the man I'll stay and take some of your cows in the place of money."

"But what shall I do," said the farmer, "when my cows and oxen are all gone?"

"Why, you can work for me and get them all back."
